

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Management, College of Management Sciences, Evangel University, Akaeze Ebonyi State, Nigeria started on 17 November 2012 following the licensing of the University on February 28, 2012. However, the department admitted her first set of students in the 2012/2013 academic session. Twelve students were admitted into the programme for that session. In the subsequent years the department had continued to admit students taken into cognizance her carrying capacity in order to sustain excellence in manpower development as part of her vision to be a first class University in Africa and beyond. The department offers a four year regular Bachelor of Science degree in Management (B.Sc Business Management). The degree is obtainable through course work and research embodied in a well-documented project. The award is made in learning and in character.

Philosophy

The department's academic programme was conceived and structured to promote the overall university's philosophy of "education for the total man" through the teaching and publishing of truth in the area of management. In particular, the fundamental principle that underlines the academic programme of the Department is to produce well grounded students that are balanced in theoretical and practical knowledge that will help them face the challenges of self-reliance, personal attainment, contribute meaningfully to national and societal development, and be able to cope with the problems emanating from the business environment and beyond.

Objectives

The Departmental programme is targeted at the following specific objectives.

To equip the students with the knowledge and skills required to identify and analyze problems and take appropriate decisions;

To help students acquire the knowledge of research procedures for investigating issues and problems in management, administration, economics and in the entire field of social sciences generally;

To facilitate students 'acquisition of the conceptual, analytical and human relations' skill necessary for managing and implementing change in organisations;

To inculcate in the students the entrepreneurial spirit and competencies for effective starting and growing of new business concerns; and;

To help students acquire proficiency in computer applications so as to enable them participate meaningfully in e-businesses in this era of globalization.
